

MEMORANDUM

For Immediate Release:

Jeanne Ryan, 48 of 132 Gate Schoolhouse Road Goshen, NY, was arrested and charged with Cruelty to Animals and Failure to properly dispose of dead animals. Following an extensive investigation, and armed with a Search Warrant, Investigators from the Law Enforcement Division of the Hudson Valley SPCA, in cooperation with the Goshen Town Police and Catskill Veterinary Services, seized a badly neglected and emaciated Stallion left in a stall without food or water, left only to chew on the wood of the stall. (Cribbing) This horse was left standing in feces with split, infected, overgrown hooves.

Authorities also discovered the carcasses of four deceased adult horses in contiguous stalls together with a dead foal in a nursing position. The horses presumably starved to death. The deceased horse carcasses were found to be in a state of severe decomposition.

Anyone with additional information is urged to contact the HVSPCA Law Enforcement Division at (855)-448-2548.
